

Talent Identification Development Centres

A major part of the succession planning strategy involved assessing high potential Directors for promotion. After undergoing an internal process of nomination, candidates were invited to participate on the Development Centre programme. Successful candidates were then assigned a mentor, and put on to a structured career plan.

